Alderwoman Milele A. Coggs One of Holy Redeemer's Women of Honor

Alderwoman Milele A. Coggs will be honored as one of Holy Redeemer's 2009 Women of Honor during their annual Women's Day program Sunday, October 25.

The awards banquet recognizes 100 women in the area for their contributions to the community, religious organizations and families. The event takes place at Holy Redeemer Church, 3500 Mother Daniels Way and a reception follows the event in the Milwaukee African American Cultural Center.

Alderwoman Coggs said she is humbled by the honor, which, according to Rowena Davis, chair of the Women of Honor committee, was bestowed upon Coggs for her "fidelity, stewardship and humanitarianism."

"I am so fortunate to be among 100 women who make our community what it is. Their strength, drive and compassion is truly great and to stand among them is a wonderful honor," said Alderwoman Coggs.

This Women's Day celebration includes guest pastors and a women's music celebration in the evening.
