MEDIA ADVISORY

Council Member Promotes Library Meetings

The Milwaukee Public Library is in the process of soliciting feedback from residents and sharing information on changes the library faces in its delivery of services. Ald. Milele Coggs will be attending the next meeting, TODAY, Monday, August 17 at Martin Luther King Library, 310 W. Locust St. and encourages residents to join her.

“Our library faces significant changes and is working hard to present the public with the most up to date technologies and services. Resident and user feedback is essential to helping the library increase its efficiencies,” Ald. Coggs, a library board member, said.

At each open house, attendees can come and go as they please to study the options presented by library staffers on poster boards and handouts and they may speak with Library Board trustees and staff members to offer suggestions or have questions answered. “Residents are being offered a unique opportunity to be a part of this process, I hope to see many engaging in this dialog,” Coggs added.
