1130 E Hamilton

1130 E Hamilton Street
 East Village Historic District

Owners Rudy and David Gudgeon were faced with a big decision when fire hit their property on Hamilton Street in 2007. Rather than follow through with the condemnation orders and demolish the house, they used their preservation ethic to see this phoenix rise from the ashes. New wood siding, windows, doors, and porch details were all replicated from the originals. The Historic Preservation Commission applauds the Gudgeons at bringing this house "back from the brink" and retaining the unique character of East Village.
