City of Milwaukee Department of Public Works Welcomes New Communications Manager

Commissioner Ghassan Korban announced today that Sandy Rusch Walton has joined the City's Department of Public Works team as the new Communications Manager. She began work at the department on September 4.

Ms. Rusch Walton will be responsible for the overall communications plan for the department, and will be the contact for all media concerning snow and ice removal, sanitation and recycling issues, parking, and other public works matters.

Ms. Rusch Walton has been with the City of Milwaukee for more than 20 years, most recently serving as Marketing and Public Relations Officer for the Milwaukee Public Library. She did graduate work in Journalism at Marquette University, and has a double Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Theology from Carroll University.
