A Community Garden Is Born

With engineered food items and ingredients that are created in laboratories, these days who can say that they really know what they're eating, or what ills unknown additives may cause in the future?

The Growing Power organization gives Milwaukee citizens an opportunity to enjoy fully organic produce grown in our very own neighborhoods. The enjoyment of fresh, ripe fruits and vegetables and the peace of mind that comes with the full knowledge of their content can now be found at The Maple Tree/Millwood Garden.

Mayor Tom Barrett will join Ald. Jim Bohl in an official ribbon cutting and community celebration for this garden at 9 a.m. on Saturday, August 18, 2007 at 10500 W. Daphne St. located on the east side of Maple Tree Elementary School adjacent to the playground. MPS Superintendent William Andrekopoulos and Will Allen of Growing Power will also participate in the event. The garden will service both students of the school and residents of the community who wish to gain this healthy experience.

What: Garden ribbon cutting ceremony
When: 9:00 a.m. Saturday, August 18, 2007
Where: 10500 W. Daphne St.
