MEDIA ADVISORY

Speaker Vos, Sen. Darling and other legislators to join Alderman Donovan on neighborhood walk

Milwaukee Alderman Bob Donovan will be discussing the city's chronic problems with crime and violence as he escorts a delegation of state lawmakers on a walk through his south side neighborhood this afternoon. Media coverage is invited.

Assembly Speaker Robin Vos, Sen. Alberta Darling, Rep. Mike Kuglitsch, Rep. Joe Sanfelippo and Rep. Joel Kleefisch will join Alderman Donovan at 1:00 p.m. on the southeast corner of the intersection at S. 22nd St. and W. Greenfield Ave. Following some brief remarks, they will set off for a short neighborhood walk with local residents and business owners.

"I appreciate these key Madison leaders taking the time to join me and learn more about the chronic public safety issues that plague our city," Alderman Donovan said. "The current administration has dug us so deeply into a hole on these issues, I believe it will take some sort of partnership with the state to dig us out again. I look forward to exploring those possibilities today with our visiting lawmakers."
