Jobs fair scheduled for opportunities working on St. Ann Center project

Alderman Russell W. Stamper, II invites residents to learn more about job opportunities constructing the St. Ann Center for Intergenerational Care Bucyrus Campus, a $20 million construction project on Milwaukee's north side.

"This is an excellent opportunity for Milwaukee residents who are looking for work to take a hand in building a lasting legacy here on the north side," Alderman Stamper said. "This project will do more than create jobs—it will help shape the future of the city."

St. Ann Center plans to construct an 80,000-square-foot intergenerational day care facility on the seven-acre site at N. 25th Street & W. North Avenue. The multi-use facility will serve infants, children, adults and the elderly who have severe disabilities and high levels of functional, physical and mental needs.
