Residents can de-clutter at tomorrow's "Choose to Re-Use" household goods event

As part of the Garden District Farmers' Market summer series of "Choose to Re-Use" recycling events, Alderman Terry L. Witkowski invites residents to participate in a free home décor and household goods-themed used goods collection.

Scheduled for 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, the home décor and household goods-themed Choose to Re-Use event is an opportunity to get rid of those old household items that are in good repair but no longer of use. Everyone is welcome to leave an item or take an item for free, but participants are asked to refrain from bringing furniture, electronics, TVs and computer equipment. All leftover items will be donated.

"For some, 'Choose to Re-Use' is a perfect opportunity to free up some space in the attic," Alderman Witkowski said. "For others, it's more like a free rummage sale with a chance to find something great."

Recycling events and exchanges will continue during Garden District Farmers' Market every Saturday through August 29, with themes including holiday decorations and books. A schedule is available at milwaukee.gov/District13. For more information contact Dawn Riegel at jdriegel@msn.com or (414) 379-2450.
