Council members sponsor Oct. 27 job fair with more than 100 employers

Milwaukeeans are invited to explore employment opportunities available at the America Works “Connecting the Dots to Employment” job fair being held tomorrow, October 27 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at Manpower Group, 100 Manpower Pl.

More than 100 employers from throughout the Milwaukee area will be represented, with available positions including jobs in manufacturing, construction, retail, welding, housekeeping, driving, warehouses, production associates, call center representatives, management, hospitality, administration, childcare, the food industry, healthcare, general labor and more. The event is sponsored by Common Council President Ashanti Hamilton, Alderwoman Milele A. Coggs, Alderman Russell W. Stamper, II and Alderman Khalif J. Rainey.

“When I talk to people from the community, one of the most frequent questions I hear is where people can find access to good jobs and employers,” President Hamilton said. “This job fair is an excellent opportunity to learn what’s out there, pick up pointers on getting a good job and meet potential employers face to face.”

The event will also include a panel discussion entitled “What is the Missing Link to Employment” moderated by Michelle Bryant, as well as a live remote broadcast of Sherwin Hughes’s “The Forum” radio program from 9:00 a.m. to noon.

Participants can take advantage of other services, including background expungement, driver’s license recovery, resume preparation and free professional interview attire. To learn more, call 267-2422 or email info@americaworks.com.

“With such a wide variety of employers and positions available, hopefully no attendees will leave disappointed,” Alderwoman Coggs said. “Anyone who is interested in finding opportunities for work should attend.”
