“Care closer to home” for children, families at new clinic at Midtown Center

A new state-of-the-art Children’s Hospital of Wisconsin medical and dental clinic at Midtown Center is bringing top-notch care closer to children across a large portion of Milwaukee, a welcome addition in a bustling area of the city, according to Alderman Cavalier Johnson.

The Midtown Clinic, located at 5433 W. Fond du Lac Ave. (former Office Depot location), has been transformed into exam rooms, waiting areas and clinic spaces that are large, open and welcoming, Alderman Johnson said.

“Prior to the clinic opening, pediatric health care options were few and far between on the northwest side, where we have a large population of young children and families,” the alderman said.

“Kids in my district deserve health care access and having one of the top pediatric hospitals in the country here is appropriate and deserved,” Alderman Johnson said.

The new, 20,000-square-foot Midtown Clinic offers pediatric and adolescent primary care, behavioral medicine and dental care with state-of-the-art technology and amenities designed specifically for pediatric patients and their families, including access to bus lines and convenient on-site parking.

“I am committed to making the 2nd District and the city better for future generations, and it’s important to have strong partners who also share that vision,” he said. “I am pleased that Children’s Hospital sees the beauty, the promise and the need that exists in the (Midtown Center) area, and I am thankful for their partnership.”
