Velvlea Hortense Rodgers Phillips (1923-2018) was a Milwaukee native who became a leader in not only the African-American community but was a trailblazer and role model for all Milwaukeeans, for Wisconsin, and the nation.

- First African-American woman to graduate from the University of Wisconsin Law School
First African-American to be elected to the Milwaukee Common Council
First female judge in Milwaukee, and the first African-American judge in Wisconsin
First person of color to be elected Secretary of State in Wisconsin
First African-American to be elected as a member of the Democratic National Committee.

Whether serving as an elected official or as a private citizen, Ms. Phillips worked tirelessly to better her community with a fearless and pioneering spirit. She will be remembered for her mission to eliminate barriers between disadvantaged people and their goals, clearing the path for educational, occupational, social and political parity.
