What's Free fundraiser TOMORROW to benefit the family of Sandra Parks

Alderman Russell W. Stamper, II asks community members to attend the What's Free fundraiser at Up Down located at 615 E. Brady St. TOMORROW – Thursday, December 6, from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Dream Keepers and Ald. Stamper will be sponsoring the fundraiser. Professional Basketball Players Sterling Brown of the Milwaukee Bucks and Kevon Looney of the Golden State Warriors will be in attendance to support the Parks family and meet with local residents. All proceeds will be donated to the family of Ms. Sandra Parks.

Ms. Sandra Parks was a bright, young eighth grade student who was a powerful, award winning writer at the age of 13. She was a strong believer in the power of education and wrote about the need for peace and unity in her community. Ms. Parks was tragically killed in her home on November 19, 2018 by a stray bullet. This event is to honor Ms. Parks and her belief in education and peace in her community.

"We must come together as a community to heal from the tragic loss of this brilliant, young lady. In our mourning, we must also rise to end the gun violence that threatens the peace of our community and takes away innocent citizens such as Sandra Parks. I highly encourage all residents to attend this fundraiser to support the Parks family in their time of loss and to unify against violence in our community," Alderman Stamper said.
