Common Council members invite businesses and neighborhood groups to a 2020 Democratic National Convention planning session

City of Milwaukee Common Council President Ashanti Hamilton and Finance & Personnel Committee Chairwoman Milele A. Coggs, together with all Common Council members – Ald. Cavalier Johnson, Ald. Nik Kovac, Ald. Robert J. Bauman, Ald. Nikiya Dodd, Ald. Khalif J. Rainey, Ald. Robert Donovan, Ald. Chantia Lewis, Ald. Michael J. Murphy, Ald. Mark A. Borkowski, Ald. José G. Pérez, Ald. Terry L. Witkowski, Ald. Tony Zielinski, and Ald. Russell W. Stamper, II - invite Business Improvement District (BID) and Neighborhood Improvement District (NID) leaders to attend a 2020 Democratic National Convention (DNC) fact-finding and brainstorming session on Wednesday, April 17. This meeting is an opportunity to talk about the economic impact of the DNC, and how businesses and neighborhoods can get involved to maximize returns for their communities.

“My Council colleagues and I encourage BID and NID leaders to attend this meeting to learn more about ways our community members can participate in and benefit from the 2020 DNC in Milwaukee,” said President Hamilton.

“Milwaukee as the host city for the DNC can only succeed when we all come together to share our ideas, experiences, expertise and willingness to do the work to ensure success for all,” said Alderwoman Coggs.

Space at the meeting is limited; attendees must pre-register to secure their spot.
