The Retreat opens today at N. MLK Dr. location

Aldерwoman Milele A. Coggs said The Retreat – a unique new event space – is opening today at 2215 N. Martin Luther King Dr. in Bronzeville.

The Retreat is owned by Milwaukee writer, performer and entrepreneur Dasha Kelly Hamilton and her husband, DJ and artist Kima Hamilton.

Aldерwoman Coggs said special grand opening activities are taking place at The Retreat until 2 p.m. today. “I want to thank the owners for their investment in the neighborhood, the 6th District and the city, and The Retreat will be a great addition to the dynamic mix of businesses in the Historic King Drive Business Improvement District,” she said.

The main floor of The Retreat will provide space for brainstorming sessions, board trainings, catered luncheons, live music, open mics readings, podcast recording sessions, private receptions and more. Coffee, loose-leaf tea, beer, wine and natural sodas will also be offered.

The lower level will feature “Woosah Rooms” or decompression spaces for patrons to throw plates, glasses and vases, smash things with a hammer and toss paint balloons.
