Driving in Milwaukee is simply crazy

News conference set for TODAY at 11 a.m. to address city's reckless driving and traffic safety crisis

Alderman Bob Donovan and Alderman Mark A. Borkowski will hold a news conference TODAY – Wednesday, June 19 – at 11 a.m. at S. 27th St. and W. Forest Home Ave. to address Milwaukee's ongoing reckless driving and traffic safety crisis.

Alderman Donovan, chair of the Public Safety and Health Committee, said yesterday's early morning crash that killed off-duty Milwaukee Police Officer Kou Her at N. 60th St. and W. Capitol Dr. is the most recent tragic outcome caused directly by reckless driving.

"The citizens of Milwaukee are tired of the speeding, red-light running and reckless driving taking place across our city, and they deserve to know that the city and our court system are doing everything possible to keep motorists safe on our streets and to make sure the reckless fools are being punished," Alderman Donovan said.

"Alderman Borkowski and I will be discussing these critical issues during our news conference later this morning," he said.
