MEDIA ADVISORY

Granville Harvest Fest set for tomorrow- Saturday, October 24th

The Granville Harvest Fest will be held TOMORROW- Saturday, October 24th, from noon to 6 p.m. There will be plenty of great family activities including pumpkin decorating, coloring, community art projects, games, photo booths, horse rides, food, live music and outdoor movies. Masks must be worn while at the Harvest Fest, and there is limited access inside the tents and in other areas due to COVID regulations and social distancing requirements.

The event will be held at 8633 W. Brown Deer Rd. and put on by the Granville Business Improvement District.

Aldewoman Chantia Lewis invites the community to check out the festival. “The Granville Harvest Fest gives families a great opportunity to get outside and partake in some awesome fall activities like pumpkin decorating and horse rides before it gets too late in the season,” she said.

There are a number of great family movies playing including Moana at noon, Spide-man Into the Spide-verse at 2:00 p.m., and Black Panther at 4:00 p.m. Seating is limited for these movie showings so be sure to arrive early to secure your spots. Please go to <https://granvillebusiness.org/harvest-fest/> for more information about the festival.
