Lindsay Heights neighborhood sign to be unveiled today

Alderman Russell W. Stamper, II is inviting residents and the media to participate in the unveiling of the Lindsay Heights neighborhood sign TODAY - Monday, September 28th. Those attending are encouraged to wear masks and practice proper social distancing.

The sign was funded through the Neighborhood Investment Beautification Fund of the City's Environmental Collaboration Office. The project builds on previous efforts to beautify the neighborhood including the creation of Sunshine Park on North Avenue, Fondy Park, façade grants for local businesses, and green infrastructure projects with Walnut Way Conservation Corp. and the Social Development Commission.

Lindsay Heights, located just north of downtown Milwaukee, is home to Walnut Way, the Innovations and Wellness Commons, Fondy Farmers Market, Alice's Garden, and was named Milwaukee's first Eco-Neighborhood in September 2018.
