Youth Transformation Series for May 2021

This month – on the 13th, 20th, and 27th (Thursdays) – the Youth Transformation Series will be hosting multiple FREE May 2021 learning events that are open for the public. The Youth Transformation Series is a social and emotional learning program that will give males and females ages 12-27 the knowledge, attitude, and skills to understand and manage emotions.

The dates will be hosted by several notable guest speakers, including Muhibb Dyer, Tiffany Gratton-McDuffie, and Dr. Lakeia Jones. These experts will cover several emotional and social learning topics, such as relationship management, self-management, and social awareness.

“Programs like the Youth Information Series are the exact opportunities that are needed to give our children a chance to engage with their emotions rather than trying to hide them,” Alderman Chantia Lewis said. “I am encouraging families to engage their children in these events so they can learn necessary life skills like communication and sound decision making.”

Participants can register for the sessions online at Bit.ly/YTSMay2021. Registering also enters participants into a free giveaway for a laptop from the Youth Transformation Series.
