What is NIDC?

The Neighborhood Improvement Development Corporation (NIDC) is an affiliate of the City of Milwaukee's Department of City Development. NIDC works with City Departments, community-based organizations, financial institutions, developers, local foundations, and most importantly, residents, to improve Milwaukee's neighborhoods. NIDC provides affordable low interest loans and technical services to home owners and residential investment owners citywide.

NIDC Programs:

NIDC administers a number of programs to help Milwaukee property owners make repairs to their homes.

NIDC works closely with its clients and participating contractors to ensure a smooth rehabilitation process and a successful project.

Through NIDC's programs, contracts are between the property owner and the contractor - with NIDC facilitating the inspection and payment processes. Projects generally range from $10,000 to $30,000.

How do I get paid for jobs?

- When a segment of work is complete the contractor will provide NIDC with a work invoice and a payment request form signed by the customer.
- NIDC staff will review the request and inspect the work. Once the work is approved, NIDC staff can process a payment for the contractor. Checks for interim and final payments are generally available 2-3 weeks after NIDC approval.
- Permits and waivers of lien are required from the general contractor as well as all subcontractors and suppliers. Acceptable lead wipe clearance tests are required on specific projects.
- Escrowed rehabilitation funds are held at the City of Milwaukee.
