The City of Milwaukee Order #4.3 Update

MILWAUKEE– Rising COVID-19 case numbers in the latest compilation of gating metrics has moved a key indicator into the red category. In this first report since the year-end holidays, a statistically significant growing number of COVID-19 cases is present. As infections in our community remain at a high level, Order #4.3 remains in place.

“This latest information reinforces the importance of masks, distancing, and avoiding group settings,” Acting Commissioner Marlaina Jackson said. “As the Milwaukee Health Department starts distributing COVID-19 vaccines, our community still must maintain precautions in order to crush COVID in the months ahead.”

The current Milwaukee Health Department (MHD) public health order uses a measured, phased approach based on data-driven gating criteria that aligns with federal and state guidance. The order is available online at milwaukee.gov/MMFS. Below are the Five Key Indicators and Gating Criteria that drive our City’s advancement through the phases and guide our reopening.
