The City of Milwaukee Phase 4.1 Order Update

MILWAUKEE - The Milwaukee Health Department is reviewing the current COVID-19 orders, with the possibility of additional protective measures as soon as early next week.

“We are facing a growing, life-threatening challenge in Milwaukee. So, to reduce the spread of COVID-19, we are looking into tightening restrictions in a number of important ways,” Acting Health Commissioner Marlaina Jackson said. “It is essential that we examine all appropriate steps to stem increases in infections, hospitalizations, and deaths.”

On May 15, 2020, the City of Milwaukee Health Department (MHD) issued a public health and safety order called ‘Moving Milwaukee Forward.’ This order (available at <https://city.milwaukee.gov/MMFS>) uses a measured, phased approach that utilizes data-driven gating criteria that aligns with federal and state guidance. This plan outlines the measures needed for the City of Milwaukee based on the latest science. Milwaukee had made some progress in reducing the impact of COVID-19 until recent weeks.
