RETALIATION

In accordance with MCO Section 66-22-3, no lessor shall take retaliatory action toward any lessee because of protected actions taken in response to suspected or known lead hazards. It shall be presumed that any attempt to terminate the tenancy, increase rent or other charges, reduce services, refuse to renew a rental agreement, or to otherwise harass or retaliate against a non-owner occupant within 24 months of the protected activities is done in retaliation and is void. The lessor may overcome the presumption of retaliation by demonstrating “good cause” for lessor’s action by showing reasons other than those related to or caused by the occupant’s protected activities, including but not limited to normal rental increases due to tax increases or increases in maintenance costs. An occupant may be evicted if the occupant fails to pay rent other than a rent increase prohibited by this subsection, commits waste upon the premises, or commits a substantial violation of a written rental agreement. Retaliatory action may subject you to issuance of a citation.
